

Greetings from Cairo!

The children went home at early June after a very difficult year. The parents articulated their thanks and appreciation to the staff for their hard work with their children. The new academic year will start on the 21st Sept 2014.

Rev Farag is doing very well in his studies, and always share his news with us . Raga (his wife) has had a stapedectomy surgical operation which leads to a significant hearing progress after 10 years of suffering. Thanks be to God as He provides everything needed for His Children.

Some of the staff at the British embassy and the wife of the British ambassador have visited the deaf unit and spent some time with the children. It was a very fruitful visit as our visitors were amazed by the work provided.

Pula prays for our country and thanks God for the peaceful end of the deaf unit academic year, and also wish good summer holiday for all the children

The teachers are so happy with the good end of the academic year and achievement of the children.

The CBR training programme plays a major role in helping the deaf children in Upper Egypt. We have had 4 teachers from Luxor (12 hours by train south Cairo) who attended two weeks training course included speech therapy, sign language, teaching methods and practical lessons at classrooms. We are very keen to reach the unreached deaf children especially in the very poor rural areas of Egypt.

Weekly training for our staff (right), Michael and Kiri joined the CBM annual partner workshop in Istanbul.

❖ We thank God for CBM, Embrace the Middle East, Churches in the UK, Australia , USA, Centro, the diocese of Melbourne, embassies in Cairo, and the diocese of Egypt for their continual support.

Please do pray for:

The children during the summer holiday. The CBR and the teacher training. Rev Farag and his family. The BT translation project. The financial need for the school, and fruitful future for our country

Clement and Maged continue to lead the deaf church. The bible translation team are doing very well. Clement enjoy doing the BT testing and visiting different places in Egypt.
